Multi-Jurisdictional Registry Access Service (MRAS) to connect Canada's Business Registries

In 2016-17, Corporations Canada and Canadian provinces and territories developed a proof of concept that demonstrated a reduction of burden on corporations in the area of multi-jurisdictional searches, registrations and reporting. Building on the proof of concept, eight jurisdictions provided sample data sets from their registries and worked with those data sets to develop a prototype. All jurisdictions were excited to discover that the prototype demonstrates successful data-sharing between registries and identifies the high-level business and technical requirements required to fully develop MRAS.

NUANS - Successful launch

Corporations Canada launched a modernized Online search application in June 2016. Nuans is a search tool that produces corporate name reports. The Nuans reports compare a proposed new corporate name with a listing of similar corporate names and trademarks that are already in use. This facilitates the decision of the corporate registrars to grant or reject the new name. This online service is used by Corporations Canada and by 9 provincial or territorial governments. The development of the modernized Nuans consisted of:

- Building a new complex phonetics search tool
- Procuring the services of a new provider for hosting the website, selling the reports and managing the call center.
- Building a new web interface and rewriting all the web pages
- Introducing new sign-in methods for clients. Clients now have 2 options; they can sign-in with GCKey or with financial institutions credentials.
- Everything was done in consultation with our provincial/territorial partners and clients to assure quality. Clients and partners were engaged through every process of the design, development and testing phases of the project.

Online services

Clients now have the ability to file a letter of satisfaction online as well as to look-up addresses using postal codes for online transactions.

Multi-Jurisdictional Registry Access Service (MRAS) to connect Canada's Business Registries

Corporations Canada will continue working with the provinces and territories to connect Canada's business registries. The objective is a registry access service that will allow robust business searches across the registries and will streamline extra-provincial corporate registration and reporting. The next phase is to develop a pilot. We will be embarking on a pilot stage using live data with 4 jurisdictions and Corporations Canada. The pilot will explore data-sharing between registries in a live test environment. It will identify the detailed requirements for full implementation of MRAS, including costs, timelines. We will then look to adding additional jurisdictions in the second iteration of the pilot in 2018. The pilot is expected to be completed by March 2018.

IT Modernization Renewal

Continue advancing our IT modernization initiative by identifying and exploring the implementation of new and innovative technologies for client services and increasing our capacity to offer online services to clients, such as copies, Not-For-Profit (NFP) amendments and exemptions.

As well, in an effort to modernize our Call Centre, Corporations Canada will explore the possibility of adding a Chat service for our clients.

Develop Client Relationship Management (CRM) system

Corporations Canada will launch a client relationship management (CRM) system to gain insight into the behaviour of clients in order to strategically serve those clients. CRM will permit Corporations Canada to record and manage client interactions and provide business intelligence. Extraction of business intelligence will allow Corporations Canada to better identify client needs and improve products and services accordingly. The CRM will provide evidence that will be used to support Corporations Canada's business planning.
